

Bike Month Business Challenge

Shift into Action

Sponsor the 2025 Bike Month
Business Challenge

What is the Bike Month Business Challenge?

The Bike Month Business Challenge presents an incentive for businesses and organizations in the greater Charlottesville area to adopt cycling as their mode of transportation. Organized by RideShare, a program of the Thomas Jefferson Planning District Commission (TJPDC), this friendly competition aims to reduce car dependency while promoting employee wellness and enhancing environmental responsibility during National Bike Month, each May. The Challenge's long term goal is to create lasting engagement and a community that embraces active transportation.

Participants track their bike trips and miles using the ConnectingVA app. In 2024, 13 local businesses teams participated, collectively cycling 823 miles and successfully reducing greenhouse gas emissions by 685.21 pounds!

When: Registration opens in April.
The Challenge runs May 1-31, 2025.

Who: Includes businesses and individuals located in the greater Charlottesville area.

How: To start, businesses confirm participation by signing our business pledge. Next, we provide comprehensive resources to help your organization get started. After that, individuals easily track bike trips using the ConnectingVA app (available for Apple and Android) to earn points toward year-round benefits, including rewards, discounts, and chances to win exciting prizes!

RideShare works to reduce traffic congestion and improve mobility throughout Central Virginia. The program offers free carpool matching, vanpool coordination, and a Guaranteed Ride Home program for emergency situations. Community members can track their “clean commutes” (walking, biking, carpooling, transit, and telework) through the ConnectingVA app to earn rewards, giveaways, and discounts even outside of Bike Month. TJPDC also collaborates with employers to develop effective traffic reduction programs and promote the region's Park and Ride lots.
